Welcome to the U=U Global Summit 2022

A full-day summit featuring over 50 internationally-renowned advocates, activists, researchers, healthcare providers and policy makers, brought together to empower and energize our global movement and to enable the transformative potential of Undetectable=Untransmittable (U=U).

Across seven sessions we will explore how U=U greatly improves the lives of people living with HIV and accelerates progress toward ending the HIV/AIDS epidemic. These interactive sessions will include:

- Global best practices and innovations in U=U program and policy development;
- How marginalized communities have adapted the U=U message to serve diverse populations and settings;
- How to flip the U=U script between patients and providers in healthcare settings; and,
- The global challenges in advocacy and the law, and how the U=U message is dismantling HIV stigma, reducing health inequities and improving quality of life people living with HIV around the world.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Session	Time	Topic
Welcome to the 2022 U=U Global Summit
	09:00 – 10:00	The Summit organizers, our Indigenous hosts and Canadian officials will welcome participants to the Summit, looking back on six years of U=U accomplishments and looking ahead to the day's agenda. We will also hear a keynote address "Live Love K=K" from our colleagues in Vietnam and the tremendous success they have had bringing the U=U (K=K) message across their entire National HIV Strategy.
Break A	15 min	Networking and break with a selection of tea, coffee, juices and simple breakfast/snack items
One size doesn't fit all
Session 2	10:15 – 11:15	We know the benefits of U=U for some of the most marginalized communities affected by HIV, but each community also faces unique barriers to accessing treatment, healthcare and information. In this session, we will hear how communities around the world have adapted the U=U message and movement to serve diverse populations and settings. Followed by a Q&A with summit delegates attending both in-person and online.
Break B	15 min	Networking and break with a selection of tea, coffee, juices
Let's get Clinical
Session 3	11:30 – 12:30	Are healthcare providers helping the U=U message reach as many people as possible, or are they a barrier? We'll see new research on what makes healthcare providers more or less likely to share U=U information with their patients, and learn how to change the script from both patients and healthcare providers. Followed by a Q&A with summit delegates attending both in-person and online.
Break C	1.5 hr	LUNCH BREAK A selection of cold bento box style sandwiches and salad options with coffee, tea, water and juice
Rapid-fire Case Studies: Promoting U=U Globally
Session 4	14:00 – 15:00	How do we better communicate the U=U message? How do we ensure our campaigns are set up for success from the beginning? We'll hear about six examples of exceptional U=U promotions from around the world, and learn from the campaigners about how they have responded to challenges, the impact of their work and the lessons learned. Followed by a Q&A with summit delegates attending both in-person and online.
Break D	15 min	Networking and break with a selection of tea, coffee, juices and light snacks
The Good Fight: Advocacy, policy and the law
Session 5	15:15 – 16:15	How can U=U strengthen our call to end health inequities and remove the social, structural, and legal barriers to HIV care? How is U=U modernizing discriminatory laws and practices, such as HIV criminalization? An expert panel will discuss strategies and concrete examples from around the world. Followed by a Q&A with summit delegates attending both in-person and online.
Break E	15 min	Networking and break with a selection of tea, coffee, juices and light snacks
A Worldwide View: Challenges and Successes from around the globe
Session 6	16:30 – 17:30	What does U=U look like around the world? What challenges does each region face, how have they been overcome, and what still needs to be done? Global leaders of the U=U movement will be here to answer your questions and consider what we need to do to further promote U=U, to transform lives and accelerate ending the HIV/AIDS epidemic. Followed by a Q&A with summit delegates attending both in-person and online.
Spotlight: Global U=U champions
A Global U=U Community: Build, Share, Advocate
Session 7	17:30 – 18:30	This final session of the day will begin with awarding of two Global U=U Champion Awards and movie into a reflection on what we've learnt throughout the day, thinking about the summit themes of Build, Share and Advocate. We will end with a call to action, and discuss how to further support the U=U activities across the AIDS 2022 conference and will also include a closing address from our local Indigenous hosts.
